THE DAILY AVALANCHE.

There have been 440 earthquakes in Porto Rico since last November.

It will come hard for Napoleon to send a Minister to Juarez's court, but he will have to do it.

A St. Louis Insurance Company was driven into bankruptcy by the presentation of a claim for twenty-six dollars.

A well organized gang of ten year old mackerels has been broken up in San Francisco.

A servant girl in New York, on Monday, for a slight chastisement, attempted to poison two children of the family.

The Democrats carried Wheeling, West Virginia, on Tuesday, by a majority of 500—a handsome gain.

A fatal disease had attacked the sheep in Porto Rico. It killed them in a few hours. The nature of the disease was unknown.

The insane patients in the asylum at Lexington, Kentucky, are to have a billiard table.

The Philadelphia Masons are to take five years to build a $750,000 temple, with a tower nearly three hundred feet high.

The St. Louis Board of Trade has petitioned the Legislature to abolish the Metropolitan Police Board.

A yeast is for sale in London, ten pounds of which will convert 1,700 sacks of flour into 7,344,000 penny buns.

More than 250 families are supported by charity in Trenton, New Jersey, now that the factories have stopped.

The Secretary of the Treasury is opposed to Mr. Ingersoll's bill for the issue of forty-five million dollars new legal tender notes.

The number of horses in Vermont is 30,222, valued at $3,829,871. There were 30,000 more horses in the State before the war.

McCulloch advises the President to veto the anti-construction bill. He had better "veto" McCulloch.

Johnson and the other counsel of the young Wises, for assaulting E. A. Pollard, are anxiously pressing the case for trial, but Pollard keeps away from Baltimore.

The managers of the Mobile and Ohio railroad are about to take twenty engines off the track, and about a thousand employes will be discharged from the machine shops at Whisler.

After a very exciting contest in Fremont county, Iowa, Hon. Fred. Rector, the Democratic candidate for the Legislature, to fill a vacancy, was elected by 100 majority—a heavy gain.

It is understood that no changes in the tax will be made, except to change the method of collecting the tax on imported cigars by requiring stamps to be affixed before arriving in this country.

The impeachment investigation by the Judiciary Committee cost the Government $25,119—bills already paid. How much more is outstanding is yet to be ascertained. That is the way the money goes.

John D. Champlin has brought suit in the St. Louis Circuit Court against the North Missouri railroad for $657,000, balance claimed to be due him in three contracts for constructing the second and third divisions of said road.

The New York Union League Club has taken a lease for ten years of Mr. Jerome's splendid mansion in Madison square, once intended as the headquarters of the Jockey Club. The League have appropriated fifty thousand dollars for furnishing their quarters.

The New York Tribune calls the Southern mongrel bones-and-banjo convention "the deep black, pale black, black and tan and and ginger-bread bone and muscle of the lately rebellious States." A pretty fair description, it must be confessed.

Friday of last week, at the municipal election held at Princeton, Illinois, the entire Democratic ticket was elected by 160 majority. Last year the place gave 100 Jacobin majority, making a Democratic gain of 260 votes. In the township of Princeton the Democratic majority was 280.

General George W. Morgan (Democrat), in his argument concerning his contested seat before the House Committee on Elections, declared in effect, that in his opinion, if Mr. Johnson had not made so many blundering speeches on his trip around the circle, the Democrats would have carried Ohio by sixty thousand majority.

The Radicals are not at all satisfied with the Presidential outlook. Gen. Garfield, writing from Washington to the Ashtabula (Ohio) Sentinel, says "the Presidential outlook is anything but pleasant," and the Washington correspondent of the New York Independent says, "there is immense danger of a defeat next autumn."

It is asked of Congress that steps be taken to extend the period during which the first clause of the Bankrupt act shall operate, and that such notification be made in regard to exemptions as will relieve the people from their impending financial troubles, by increasing the value of such exemptions and providing for the exemption of real or personal property, at the option of the bankrupt.

Senator Doolittle's star reply to Senator Nye, of Nevada, when asked whether he would march under the "Old Glory" or the Stars and Bars. "I would march," said Doolittle, "under a flag having thirty-seven stars!" Nye had to fall back under the shelter of his Jacobin flag of only twenty-seven stars for protection, amid the laughter and applause of the galleries.

In Russellville, Kentucky, on Monday last, a man named Gub. Barker shot Bill Finch, the ball entering just above the navel. The shooting took place in Dave Rickett's saloon, and whisky was the cause. On the same day Captain Paul, an insurance agent, was assaulted by Barker, who used a billiard cue freely over his head. Barker was arrested, and held to bail in the sum of $1000.

A New York letter says: "The headquarters of Mr. Dickens, in New York, is at the Westminster Hotel, a quiet and very expensive house on Irving Place, in the immediate vicinity of Steinway Hall, where his readings are given. Here he takes his meals with Dolby, and, occasionally, a few friends. He is an inveterate story-teller, and expects all within ear-shot to listen to his anecdotes, which he tells with considerable spirit and dramatic effect."

At a breakfast given to General Sheridan, at Delmonico's in New York, some weeks ago, brook trout formed part of the bill of fare. Some of the old sportsment present were disgusted at the appearance of the unseasonable fish upon the table, and indignant at the violation of the game laws. A meeting of the Sportsmen's Club was subsequently held, and measures taken to prosecute Delmonico. The latter then wrote an apology to the Club, setting forth that he was out of the country when the offense against good feeding was committed, and pledging himself that such a thing shall never be done again at his restaurant, and thereupon the prosecution was withdrawn.

William Bromer, son of a farmer living near Bridgeport, Tennessee, being in poor health, consulted Dr. Crowell, a physician of the neighborhood. The medical man recommended gymnastic exercise, and on Friday the young man, while practicing upon an elevated pole, fell headlong to the ground, breaking his neck.

LETTER FROM GRAND JUNCTION.

General Ord at Grand Junction, en Route to California.

The Proposed New County.

"Virginia" County and "Virginia City."

Citizens' Memorial to the Legislature and to Congress for Relief.

STONEWALL HOUSE, GRAND JUNCTION, TENN., January 28, 1868.

General E. O. C. Ord arrived here from Washington at 11:30 this morning, on his way to California, via New Orleans and Panama. A few days ago the people of North Mississippi were apparently much pleased by a rumor that the General had been reinstated in the command of the military district of Mississippi and Arkansas, and that the headquarters would be again established at Holly Springs; but I have just learned from the General himself that this is a mistake, or, at least, that if any such change is contemplated, he has received no intimation of it; that he left Washington night before last, at which time General McDowell was understood to be already en route from San Francisco to Mississippi, to exchange military districts with him. Before assuming command of his new district, General Ord proposes to pay a short visit to his home on the west coast, somewhere, I believe, on the Pacific shore, below San Francisco.

Messrs. Pledge, Bryant, Woodson, Dr. Prewett, and others of this vicinity, and Messrs. Todd, Crawford and others of the vicinity of Saulsbury, are still pushing on the project of a new county, with the county seat at or near the railroad crossing. They have just finished an excellent map of the county, made up from actual survey, and obtained the authorized surveyor's certificate thereto, which will be forwarded at once to Nashville and laid before the Legislature. Prompt action by that body may now be looked for almost immediately. Should the new county be established, (of which there is little doubt,) and should the court house and other public offices be located here, (as would be most natural and appropriate,) Grand Junction would speedily become a place of considerable importance. Already, I hear of a great many citizens, both from abroad and from the immediate neighborhood, who are making their arrangements to establish their homes here; and should the present bright prospects be realized, there cannot be a doubt that Grand Junction (particularly if it will change its name to something more distinctive and euphonious) will, in the course of three or four years, take its place by the side of Atlanta, Corfieth, Chattanooga, and other flourishing railroad towns and "crossings" of the South. Mr. Bryant, of this place, proposes to call the new county "Virginia," and the county seat "Virginia City," for the reason that a majority of the citizens are, originally, from the "Old Dominion."

The committee to prepare a memorial to the Legislature of Tennessee, and to Congress, appointed at the recent meeting here (reported in the AVALANCHE last week) have performed that duty, and I therewith inclose you the result of their labors. It will be interesting to your readers, as showing the view taken of the present aspect of affairs generally and the future question especially, by intelligent citizens of this vicinity. It will be seen, that, in this document, while endeavoring to say all they possibly can in favor of the freedman as a laborer, they tacitly admit what the experience of free negro labor has utterly and disastously failed, and with that failure has come the wide spread ruin and bankruptcy we see all around us.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, January 28, 1868.

Mr. Eaton introduced a bill appropriating the money received from the sale of lands donated by the United States, to establish departments of agriculture and mechanical sciences in colleges already established in the Eastern, Middle and Western divisions of the State.

Also, to provide for the protection of Sheriffs, by giving them thirty guards, with a Captain and Lieutenant, at three dollars per day for the privates, and a Captain's and Lieutenant's pay in the United States army to the officers, was introduced, and, after some discussion, passed first reading.

An act for the relief of the Boyceville and Jefferson railroad, by loaning it $30,000 till it can get possession of some of its bonds now attached in New York, the receiver giving bond for $50,000, for the faithful performance of the trust. Passed third reading.

In the House a communication was received from Captain Heydt, Sergeant-at-Arms, stating that he had served upon Judge Thomas Barry notice of the action of the House in regard to his removal from office.

Mr. Prosser, Chairman of the Finance Committee, to which was referred the communication of the Controller, in regart to certain claims against the State for costs, etc., submitting a resolution to the House directing the Controller to pay no bill against the State for costs in any criminal prosecution not terminated by the laws of the State, but of the rebellion; also directing the Controller to enforce a prompt collection and payment of the State revenue collectors.

A bill to incorporate the Howard Association of the City of Memphis. Passed first reading.

Mr. Robinson moved to take up the motion to reconsider the vote rejecting House bill No. 112, amending an act to create additional Justices and Notaries Public for the city of Memphis, and for other purposes. The motion prevailed, and the vote was reconsidered.

Mr. Kercheval offered an amendment providing that nothing in the bill shall allow Justices of the Peace elected for civil districts in Davidson county, outside of the city of Nashville, to open magistrates' offices in said city. Amendment adopted, and bill passed third reading.

IMPORTANT ORDER.

Settlement of Crops in Arkansas and Mississippi.

HEADQUARTERS 4TH MILITARY DISTRICT,
(Mississippi and Arkansas)
VICKSBURG, MISS., January 27, 1868.

General Orders No. 6.]

Circulars No. 19, 22, and 24, series of 1867, from these Headquarters, are hereby revoked without prejudice, however, to any action which may have been already taken in accordance with said circulars. Hereafter all questions arising from settlements of crops, and generally the relations of debtors and creditors of civil suitors, will be left to the proper civil courts—except such cases affecting the rights of Freedmen, or others, as by Acts of Congress are specially committed to the care of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands.

By order of Brevet Major Genereral Alvin C. Gillem.

JOHN TYLER,
First Lieutenant 43d Infantry Brevet
Major United States Army, A.A.A.G.
Official: NAT. WOLF,
2d Lieut. 34th Infantry, A. A. A. G.

TENNESSEE ITEMS.

The Franklin Review says that the people of that county, having tried cotton last year, and failing, are turning their attention to the producing of castor beans and broom corn. Those who have tried it have been handsomely paid by the proceeds of their crop.

General Gustavus W. Smith was recently annoyed by Brownlow's hounds, who, but a few weeks since, sought to arrest him, and drag him from his pursuits of peace and industry away to Knoxville, to be tried by a Tennessee mixed jury of "loyalists" and negroes.

Master Adam Bloom has been appointed Commissioner of Registration of Lincoln county, vice John Carey. The new official is a minor—an infant in law—but we suppose that will not disqualify him from issuing certificates in the interest of the dominant party. Brownlow thought so, of course, or he wouldn't have made the appointment, in violation of law.

The Fayetteville Observer of January 23d says that a meeting of the directors of the Winchester and Alabama railroad was held at Salem, on Saturday, the 11th of January, 1868. For the sake of harmony and to forward the work as speedily as possible, the State's receiver, Mr. Deavenport, was appointed receiver of the company also. The bonds will, therefore, be received by him from the State authorities, and used in furnishing and equipping the road. He says, we understand, that the track will be completed to Fayetteville in thirty days.

Plain Talk.

The Holly Springs Reporter, referring to Messrs. Watson, Compton and Townsend, the delegates from Marshall county to the "bones and banjo" Convention, says:

They are citizens of the State—intelligent, honest and patriotic—and have at heart the interests of the country. What a contrast between them and the reckless adventurers who compose a majority of what is called the "State Convention!" Three-fifths of the counties in the State are represented by beings who are not citizens; who do not own a foot of land among the people for whom they presume to legislate; whose interests in the State and in the South are locked up within the narrow limits of their "carpet bags;" most of whom were driven from their former abiding places for robbery, perjury, forgery, rape or some other crime—all of whom are ignorant of our laws, dishonest, villainous, and traitors to the country.

Social Status of Negroes in Georgia.

The Cotton Tax and the Congress.

Lynch Law in the State of Kentucky.

WASHINGTON, January 31.—In the Senate yesterday the Committee of Conference on the cotton tax bill presented a report recommending the withdrawal from the Senate of the amendment and substitute provision excepting cotton imported from abroad after November, 1868.

The statement by the Secretary of the Treasury shows a falling off of the internal revenue for the fiscal year 1867, compared with 1868, of $29,697,441.

NEW YORK, January 31.—The Tribune's Tallahasse, Florida, special states that in the Florida Convention, yesterday, a resolution was offered prohibiting the Legislature from reviving the Florida railroad charter, which was referred. A resolution was passed requiring the State Treasurer to send in a report of the amount of money in his hands, and to hold it subject to the action of the Convention, and prohibiting any of the officers of the Convention from drawing any funds from the Treasury without a vote of the Convention.

A resolution authorising the issuing of State scrip for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the Convention, was referred to the Finance Committee.

A resolution was introduced and referred prohibiting any distinction, on account of color, in railroad cars, on steamboats, and at places of public amusement or instruction.

Party war continued bitterly all day, but no result was reached. The opposition openly declared its intention to drive out Billings & Co. Strong speeches were made by Goss, White, Gibbs, Pearce, Bradwell and Sanders (colored Radicals), as well as by Bowman, Rawley, Alden, White and Erwin.

The Convention adjourned in a more bitter temper than at the adjournment yesterday.

Nothing has been settled. Peace prospects are doubtful. To-morrow will decide.

NEW YORK, January 31.—The Tribune's Atlanta special says that the 24th section of the Bill of Rights provides that the social status of a citizen shall never be subject to legislation.

The Times' Atlanta special says the Convention yesterday passed a resolution limiting the speeches to twenty minutes, with a view to accelerate business. A letter has been received from Washington, by leading Radicals, expressing fears of an adverse decision by the Supreme Court. To-morrow resolutions will be offered with the object of reducing the pay of delegates to two dollars after the first day of February.

FRANKFORT, KY., January 31.—Day before yesterday a negro committed a rape on an Irish girl fifteen years of age, and afterward threw her down an embankment, breaking her shoulder blade and otherwise injuring her. The negro was arrested and imprisoned last night. A crowd of infuriated citizens assembled and forced open the jail, took the negro out, and hung him to a tree on the top of the precipice where the young lady was thrown over. Several shots were fired into his body while hanging. The Governor knew nothing of the affair until it was over.

PARIS, January 31.—General Failly, commander of the French expeditionary force at Rome, is about returning with one division of his troops. The remainder of his forces will remain at Rome, under General Dumont.

PITTSBURG, January 31.—Ten feet ten inches in the river, and falling. Thermometer, thirty degrees. Cloudy.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

A Letter from the Ex-President.

The Clinton (Louisiana) Patriot publishes an interesting correspondence between Mr. Davis and a number of citizens of the parish of West Feliciana, in which the latter invited Mr. Davis to spend some little time among them. To this the ex-President replied:

WEST FELICIANA, LA., January, 1868.

GENTLEMEN: I am deeply grateful for your very kind letter of this date, and assure you that it would give me great pleasure to accept your invitation. My engagements require me to leave for Mississippi so soon that it will not be in my power to visit you, and again look upon a place associated with many happy memories. Your sufferings and losses have been to me ever present, through all the trials to which you so feelingly refer. The desolation which everywhere presents itself in that once prosperous country, fills every heart with sorrow; but I hope and trust a better time will soon come to us. The patient fortitude, the cheerful energy, and the manly virtues which our people display in the depth of their misfortune, cannot fail to bring the due reward.

Accept for yourselves and those whom you represent the expression of my life-long devotion, and my earnest prayer, which has so long been daily offered, that the Father will restore our stricken land in the way which to His wisdom seems best.

I am, most cordially, your friend,
JEFFERSON DAVIS.

$34,500 IN PREMIUMS.

Number of Prizes, 25

Certificates $5 Each.

A Fortune or a Homestead for $5.

Capital Prize Valued at $20,000,

Which amount has recently been offered for the Springs and grounds immediately surrounding.

PRIZE NO. 1.

The celebrated RALEIGH MINERAL SPRINGS, situated on the confines of Raleigh, late county seat of Shelby county, Tennessee, four miles northwest of Memphis and two miles from Wolf's Station, on the Memphis and Louisville railroad. These springs are of such wonderful and unsurpassed medicinal qualities, and are visited every summer by thousands of seekers after health and pleasure from all quarters of the country. They are within a few steps of the village of Raleigh, in a beautiful valley, and also within a few hundred feet of Wolf river, which winds around the base of the eminence on which the Springs Hotel is situated and empties into the Mississippi at Fulton or Watts" at Memphis. Numerous remarkable cures of various diseases have been experienced by sojourners at this health inspiring retreat, and the present proprietor, Colonel J. M. Coleman, of province hundreds of cures in cases of Dyspepsia, which had been entirely given over by medical skill, and surrounding the Springs, and is fact the entire village of Raleigh rises to an emblem of purity, and is as remarkable for its healthfulness as beauty of location. The Springs are in the order several never-failing, and are designated as follows:

Marble Spring,
Box Spring,
Magnolia Spring,
Arsenic Spring,
Sulphur Spring,
Freestone Spring.

The place has never been visited by epidemic of any kind, and possesses the characteristics in the highest degree of the inhabitants. The oldest citizens of Shelby county are residents of Raleigh.

The springs are as much resorted to by pleasure seekers as by invalids, owing to beauty of scenery and various artificial as well as natural attractions. Connected with the Springs are a Pavilion, Ladies' Bowling Alley, Rustic Arbors, Refreshment Saloon, Gents' Bowling Alley, saloon, Billiard Room, Gymnasium, Refreshment Tables, etc., while Wolf river affords excellent Boating and Fishing.

The grounds accompanying the Springs in the above scheme and included in the First prize, is chosen acres in extent, embracing the valley and affords in addition to a magnificent site for a grand hotel and other buildings; splendid facilities for a park, promenades, etc.

An analysis of the several Springs, by distinguished medical men, shows that they are unsurpassed in mineral and curative properties by any in the United States. There is no reason then why Raleigh should not become as famous as Saratoga, Sharon or Lebanon, and on larger grounds, and it needs only capital and enterprise to accomplish this end.

A charter is secure the State Legislature for the incorporation of the Springs, and a movement has been inaugurated looking to a direct rail communication with Memphis.

For this prize, $20,000 was recently offered, which was declined in order that the above scheme might be fully carried out.

PRIZE NO. 2.

The elegant COUNTRY MANSION HOUSE and lot residence of J. M. Coleman is within a few paces of the Springs. The house is in first-class order, contains 10 rooms, and is beautifully embowered in shrubbery. The lot is well fenced, and contains stables, fine shade trees, a fine garden, and all necessary outhouses, cisterns, etc. It is midway between the village and Spring Valley, and is within pleasant walk. Value, $8,000.

PRIZE NO. 3.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN CASH.

PRIZE NO. 4 TO 25.

TWENTY-TWO COTTAGE LOTS, valued at two hundred and fifty dollars each. These lots are a portion of the village of Raleigh, delightfully situated, all fronting on thoroughfares, and will be drawn with the understanding that the winners shall have free access at all times to the Springs and belongings.

DETAILS OF THE DRAWING.

Six thousand and seven hundred tickets, representing the certificates inside, will be placed in one wheel, and the same number of blanks (including twenty-five inscribed with names of the premiums) will be placed in another. From these wheels tickets will be drawn at the same time, and the number drawn will take the premium drawn against it.

All moneys received upon the sale of these shares will be placed in the German National Bank of Memphis, and will remain there to the credit of the Association until the drawing takes place.

O. K. HALL.

WHAT are our people doing? What are their calculations? Have they hopelessly surrendered their freedom? Or do they suppose that upon this part of our American wall, consecrated and enriched by the blood and bones of WASHINGTON and his compatriots, freedom is so deeply rooted, and has such natural growth, that of itself, without extraneous aid, it will spring up and grow, even under the foot of tyrants? Fatal mistake! There is nothing in the soil, the climate, the broad forests, the magnificent rivers and lakes—nothing in all Nature's handy-work, to originate or sustain freedom, or reclaim her when lost. Tis as true of this land as Tom Moore says of his own dear Ireland—

"O Freedom, once thy flame hath fled,
It never lights again."

Our people seem intent upon everything, but the recovery and preservation of their liberties. All the muscles of industry are [illegible] enterprise and eager in the [illegible] and the means of living [illegible] a set of blood-suckers, who, under the garb of "Loyalty," are fostered upon the State, and weigh down its energies like a fearful nightmare. Free institutions are as essential to the prosperity of our people, as free air; and all efforts to mend our fortunes, and place the State once more on the high road to prosperity will avail nothing, until we remove the manacles that now bind our limbs. Do not deceive yourselves, friends, and trudge along, dreaming of freedom and prosperity, with chains upon you. Your hopes are only dreams, and will vanish before your advance. Your first great duty is to free the State of the blighting rule of the heartless cormorants who gobble up your substance and oppress every branch of labor by onerous taxes, to support them and make them rich, while they grind the people to powder. You have the right to do it. Let a call be made at once to bring the people together in the different counties. Prepare a Constitution and Bye-laws for the organization of a white man's party, upon the grand principle that "white men shall rule the country." Invite the whole white population to enrol themselves as members. They will do it. All that is needed is for some one to start the movement and give it shape and form. Draw a broad line of distinction between the white Southern people and the negro Radical party. The latter are seeking profit in the degradation and ruin of the white race. They demand the degradation of the Southern people as the only means of their prosperity, and are willing to obtain the latter as the price of the former. They are the enemies of our people, and deserve to be, and should be, held and treated as such. Refuse them all social and business intercourse with white men. Employ no physician, lawyer, school teacher, mechanic or laborer who belongs to the Radical party. Deal with no merchant or tradesman, of any kind, who refuses to aid in the work of restoration upon terms of equality, justice, and constitutional right. Kind treatment, constant employment and fair wages, for those of the negro race, who know and keep their places, but no social or business quarters to any white man who aids, or approves the despotism that disgraces the State. Let the work go on in earnest. Let the people evince, by word and deed, in all the relations of life, that they neither ask nor show quarters in a struggle, involving, as this one does, all that men hold dear on earth. Let every man feel, and know; let it be brought home to his hearth stone, that if he refuses aid in the great task of reducing the white race from the dominion of Radicalism, he will be held and treated as an enemy in all society, and business transactions. Let him feel that he is an object of scorn, and dread and detestation, like the leper of old, and like him to be driven beyond the pale of social courtesy. Begin the work now. Begin it to-day. There is no time to lose. Every day we sink deeper into the slough of fatal apathy, and freedom's torch burns with a more sickly flame. The object demands the heart and hand, and brains, of every man in the State. A nucleus of twenty men will form a gravitating centre around which, in a few months, the white population of the State will gather in a solid mass. The watch fires of freedom will once more blaze from the mountain tops, while the trumpet voices of half a million of white men, and we men in Tennessee, will proclaim the year of our political jubilee is come. Neglect it, and all is lost.

THE Judge of the Criminal Court, cylept WILLIAM HUNTER, has absconded. He is still absent, and we are still master of the situation. We really begin to believe HUNTER is a witch or a wizzard. He is certainly ubiquitous. One day he is in Memphis expounding the law—holding up the scales and weighing out justice as the apothecary measures out jalap and calomel. The next day we find him at Nashville, wallowing in the sewers of party filth. Then he disappears like a stream under ground, but gushes up on the railroad train when he is put off by the conductor on account of his vulgar meanness and degrading impudence. He next makes his appearance at Knoxville, where he was ejected from a public hotel, and where he was found before the door like a poor beggar, whimpering and whining because the landlord would not let him eat and sleep with an odoriferous negro. Next he was snubbed by Governor BROWNLOW, who indignantly refused to gratify his contemptible malignity. With beautiful rosy cheeks, all crimsoned with consuming shame, and sensibilities deeply wounded, he picked up his dirty duds and decamped, but, instead of coming home, his ugly, cadaverous carcass popped up in the capital of the State, where he is still nosing into other people's business, and hatching dirty schemes for his dirty purposes. In behalf of the public interest, the tax paying people, the treasury of the State, and our fellow prisoners, we implore HUNTER to quit his tomfoolery, and come home. We are no pedestrian, and we are weary in trudging through rain and mud and snow and cold to the Criminal Court room, only to find that the Judge is still absent, and to feel "like one who treads alone some banquet hall deserted."

TO OUR MEMPHIS EXCHANGES.—Ever since the 6th day of January, our Memphis exchanges have come to hand with great irregularity. Not once have they been received sooner than the second day after their date; oftentimes they have straggled in from the South, three or four days old. The papers intended for regular subscribers, which should be delivered on the day of publication, are received by the carriers about sundown the day after. It is to the interest of all parties that the matter be inquired into.—Holly Springs Reporter.

Complaints of mail irregularities reach us from all quarters, and seem to be getting no better very fast. The Ledger is regularly mailed, and should reach all points in time. We direct the attention of route agents—for with them the fault generally lies—to the matter.—Evening Ledger.

The same complaints reach us from several quarters. We received yesterday a letter from a prominent citizen of LaGrange, Tennessee, which says: "The AVALANCHE, by mail, fails to come to this postoffice about twice or three times a week. I think the fault must be with the clerks in the Memphis office, newspaper or post. Please give 'em a stirring up. The AVALANCHE is a great favorite up here, and I hear several of the subscribers to other papers say they intend to send for it so soon as their time is up."

THE Convention of the Democracy of the State of Arkansas met in Little Rock on the 20th, and remained in session two days. It is represented to have been the most enthusiastic that ever assembled in the State. We are not in receipt of the full proceedings, owing to a delay either on the line, or in the postoffice in this city. We learn that Mr. PENDLETON was declared to be the first choice of the Arkansas Democracy for the Presidency.

The following eloquent extract on the subject of taxation is from the speech of the Hon. D. W. Voorhees, delivered before the Democratic State Convention in Indiana. Our readers who now groan under this oppression know full well that they are words truthfully and eloquently spoken:

In the midst of these dark, long days, when the laborer goes about the streets in quest of bread, and grinding is low, and the skeleton of want looks in at the doors and windows of many an honest household, you are taxed by Congress for the support of a standing army beyond what any other people endure beneath the sun.

The people of the United States are paying over five hundred millions of annual revenue. More than one-half of that enormous amount is swallowed up by the Congressional policy of reconstruction. If the farmer or mechanic pays twenty dollars to the tax gatherer, ten of it goes as a tribute to a vast military government, which exists in plain, open and confessed violation of the Constitution. If your property is advertised on the tree, at cross roads, and on the doors of public houses for delinquent and unpaid taxes, remember that they would not have been half so heavy, and you might easily have paid them, if the standing army had been abolished and the expense of governing the Southern States left where it belongs, with the people of those States.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, JANUARY 31.

In the Supreme Court to-day, Hon. J. Hughes, on the part of the United States, moved to dismiss the McCardle case for want of jurisdiction. It will be recollected that the Court has set apart the first Monday in March to hear the argument why the case should be advanced on the docket.

Mr. Hughes said the petition of McCardle appealing from the decision of the Court was founded on the assumption that the Reconstruction laws were unconstitutional. McCardle was held under these several acts, and the petition asserts that he is not charged with any military offense; but when he comes to explain the reasons for his arrest, he says he is charged with opposing the Reconstruction acts of Congress. Mr. Hughes then quoted the authorities under which he was arrested, for publishing in the Vicksburg Times violent language against the military authorities, the strong condemnation of the reconstruction acts. The whole tenor and tone of the reconstruction act of March, 1867, he said, contains no saving clause, and gives no jurisdiction to any court of the United States to interfere with the writ of habeas corpus. The act rather excludes the idea that it is to be a football between the courts of the United States and the military power of the United States; between the Circuit Courts and the Major Generals, and between Congress and the Supreme Court. The military power of the Government was a power reserved to Congress alone, by the Constitution, and having waged a war for four years, and the Supreme Court having recognized it as a solemn war, and the United States, as have represented, say the action in question does not recognize the right of the judiciary to interfere with the public power now exercised in the late seceded States, and does not recognize it as having the power to interfere in the interval from the close of the war until now, when the work of reconstruction is in progress. Mr. Hughes, in support of his argument, referred the Court to various legal authorities.

Hon. Jeremiah Black expressed surprise that the motion had been made to dismiss the case, as the Court had already set a time to hear the argument on the subject. On a former occasion the counsel for the United States had opposed its considering the case at all; but now they go off "half cocked" on editorial articles which had been read, and were calculated to make the friends of General Ord feel indignant. If it be true, as asserted by the other side, that neither this Court or the Circuit Court of Mississippi have any jurisdiction over this subject, then the American people are in the precise condition the French people were in during the monarchy, when any man could be put in prison and kept there until he died or was forgotten. He said the very law from which Mr. Hughes had quoted expressly says the several courts of the United States, and the judges of these courts shall have power to determine exactly such cases as this one; and furthermore it authorizes them to issue writs of habeas corpus within their respective districts in the case of persons who shall complain of being detained or held as prisoners contrary to the laws of the United States and the Constitution, and where there is no exception, a case falls within the general rule; therefore the publishing of editorial articles is not a military offense, and it could not be made by simply so-calling it. As the case was commenced in a Circuit Court, it should be settled in this Supreme Court. And where doubts exist about the meaning of the law, it is a universal practice to give them to the complainant for his benefit, in order that the mischief might be repaired as far as possible. In conclusion, he condemned the law, which, he declared, struck down ten independent States.

The Court here adjourned.

The argument will be resumed next Friday by Senator Trumbull, for the military authorities, and Judge Sharkey for the petitioner.

The Protestant Episcopal House of Bishops will meet in St. John's Chapel on Wednesday, to choose a Bishop of Oregon in place of Bishop Scott, who died in July last. Bishop Smith, of Kentucky, will preside.

At a meeting of publishers and authors last evening, resolutions were adopted favoring the establishment of international copyright between the United States and the nations of continental Europe.

CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, January 31.

Murray, Eddy & Co., lottery managers, were enjoined to-day in Covington, Kentucky, from drawing the Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of Shelby College, France Smith & Co. being the only parties authorized by law to draw under that charter.

HARRISBURG.

HARRISBURG, PA., January 31.

An accident occurred near here this morning on the Pennsylvania railroad, which was caused by a broken rail. Four of the rear cars were thrown off, three of which went down an embankment, took fire and were burned. One woman was killed and several wounded. There were no Southerners among them.

LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, January 31.

The river is swelling with seven feet in the canal. The weather is clear. Thermometer, 37°.

The Belle Lee and Nick Longworth have arrived from New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, January 31.

The Convention to-day adopted articles of the Constitution as far as No. 131, which are still under the title of General Provisions.

BOSTON.

BOSTON, January 31.

A bill will be presented in the Legislature forthwith licensing liquor dealers.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, January 31.

The dispatches received several days since, giving an account of the saving in of the earth on the side of Mount Vesuvius, whereby lives were lost and houses swallowed up, were wholly untrue, nothing of the kind occurred.

BERLIN, January 31.

General Carl Schurz dined to-day with Count Bismark and members of the Federal Council of the North German States.

Fortieth Congress---First Session.

WASHINGTON, January 31.

SENATE.

The Chair laid before the Senate several communications enclosing a Joint Resolution of the Ohio Legislature, rescinding the Constitutional Amendment.

Mr. Sherman said he believed it to be the just expression of the people of Ohio.

Mr. Sumner explained that it was of no effect, as that State could not withdraw an approval once given.

Mr. Johnson argued on the opposite side, and it was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The supplementary Tenure of Office bill was then taken up. The question was on Mr. Sumner's amendment that the "bill shall do away with the foreign agents of the State Depart ment;

Mr. Patterson moved as an amendment "that such agents shall not exceed five in number."

Messrs. Sumner, Conness, Cameron, Anthony and Grimes opposed such restrictions on the part of Congress.

At the expiration of the morning hour, the bill was laid aside, and an adjournment until Monday provided for.

Mr. Johnson gave notice that he would on Monday press a vote in the case of Senator Thomas.

The supplementary Reconstruction bill was then taken up, and Mr. Howe spoke in favor of it.

HOUSE.

On motion of Mr. Blaine, the Secretary of the Treasury was directed to furnish information as to the amount of property seized for frauds on revenues and the amount realized therefor.

Mr. Eggleston presented a joint resolution of the Ohio Legislature, withdrawing the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment, and requesting the return to the Governor of the official papers in Washington, giving the assent of Ohio to the amendment, which had been printed and referred to the Judiciary Committee. Mr. Eggleston said it was doubtful whether the persons who had called for such papers had a right to return them to the Governor of Ohio. He also desired to say that the Legislature of Ohio, in passing such a joint resolution, had gone against the wishes of the people of that State. That there has been recently an election in one Congressional District where that inquiry has been presented before the people, and the result of the election was partly owing to the Legislature.

The resolution was referred to the Judiciary Committee, who were instructed to report whether the State has a right to withdraw its assent.

Mr. Elliott, from the Committee on Freedmen's Affairs, reported a bill to continue the Bureau. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

The first section provides for a continuance of the Bureau for one year after July 16th, 1868.

The second section directs the Secretary of War to withdraw the Bureau from the States represented in Congress, unless, after a consultation with the local commissioners, on examination, he is satisfied that it should be continued: Provided, the educational division shall not be affected, until a suitable provision shall be made within the State for the education of the negro children.

The third section provides that the commissioner into employ the unexpended balance, not required for the due execution of the law, for educational purposes, and the same to be subject to the provisions of the law applicable thereto.

The fourth section permits officers of the Veteran Reserve Corps in the volunteer service, on duty under the Commissioner, and who have been or may be mustered out of the service, to be retained for duty when required for the proper execution of the law, with the same compensation and authority as is now conferred by law on officers of the Bureau of the same grade.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the Kentucky contested election case, between Messrs. Brown and Smith. During the debate which followed, Mr. Allison reported from the conference committee on the cotton tax, the bill reported in the Senate yesterday, which, after an animated discussion was agreed to—yeas, 104; nays, 43. And without coming to a vote on the Kentucky election case, the House adjourned.

LIST OF LETTERS

Remaining in the Postoffice at Memphis, Tennessee, Friday, January 31, 1868.

To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for "Advertised Letters," give the date of the list, and pay one cent for advertising.

If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and direction for post-marking without interfering with the writing.

N. B.—A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if not delivered within thirty days or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, postoffice and State across the left hand end of the envelope, will be returned free of charge. Such letters addressed to street and number will be delivered free by carriers.

Postoffice hours from eight a.m. to five p.m. Sundays, from nine to ten o'clock a.m.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Our city patrons are requested not to pay any one for subscriptions to the AVALANCHE without a certificate from the office authorizing them to collect.

M. C. GALLAWAY & Co.

NOTICE.—The proprietors of the AVALANCHE will from this date (7th day of December, 1867) refuse to pay the individual bills of any person connected with the paper. No debts against the AVALANCHE will be paid unless they originate in the office.

NOTICE—COMMERCIAL BANK.—Those who owe the AVALANCHE for either advertising or subscriptions, previous to November 1st, 1867, can pay the same by checks on the Commercial Bank at par.

NOTICE TO THE PATRONS OF THE AVALANCHE.—Persons indebted to the AVALANCHE previous to the 1st day of December, 1867, will settle the same with L. O. Hives, Esq., attorney at law, No. 303 Main street, over Mansfield's drug store, or collection will be enforced by law on or after the 15th of February, 1868.

POLICE COURT.—In the first police district yesterday morning twenty-three cases of drunkenness and disorderly conduct were reported.

The first great bankrupt sale of the season has taken closed, giving satisfaction to all concerned. The auctioneer for the court is our popular auctioneer A. S. Levy.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The criminal docket will be taken up on Monday in the Shelby Circuit Court. The first case for trial is the State vs. Ed. Bartlett on indictment for murder.

ARRESTED.—A deserter from the army named Frank Higis was arrested by Officer Hope on Thursday. The commanders of the post has Higis in charge for the present.

INFORMATION WANTED.—We wish to know the whereabouts of Mr. George W. Graham, supposed to live in the Sixth ward. He will please call at this office, or send his address.

MOTION.—A motion was made yesterday in the Chancery Court to appoint a Receiver in the Tommy-Eaton case. It is plain the Radical newspaper concern in "chancery."

RECOVERED.—Detective selkirk yesterday recovered a horse and mules stolen some time since, and officers Slocum, Pollard, N. B. Smith, and Wade succeeded in surrounding three mules and brought them to the stable.

RESCUED.—We are pleased to learn that Colonel Cockrell, of the Gayoso House, has reduced the price of day board at that establishment from forty to thirty-five dollars per month. This shows a disposition to keep up with the times.

DRY GOODS STOLEN.—Fred Heuston made a raid upon Rennie & Wolf, 173 Main street, and succeeded in carrying off twenty-five dollars' worth of dry goods. He will be examined before Squire Heinrich this morning at ten o'clock.

COW STOLEN.—A cow was stolen from Peter Hugo which he valued at $75. Baker, Bolton Stokes, Taylor Stokes, and J. K. Bates are accused of the theft. Mr. Hugo keeps the German Pleasure Garden in Fort Pickering.

TAX ASSESSOR.—H. L. Priddy is announced as a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Shelby county. Mr. Priddy is long and favorably known, and should the choice of his fellow-citizens be cast upon him, they will never regret having cast their votes to place him in the position, as he is both honest and capable.

THE OPERA.—If a full house last night was any appreciation of the merits of the performance, then certainly it was good. We have seen larger audiences in the theatre, but seldom one more fashionable. To-night, for the benefit of Marie Frederici, "Fra Diavolo" will be produced, and those who have any taste for music, and who do not attend, will not miss this opportunity of enjoying such a treat.

ST. MARY'S CONCERT.—This event was a fine affair, and Prof. Wheat, in his piano solos, added, if he possibly could, to his previous reputation. He possesses rare musical qualities, and the ladies of Mrs. Keating, Mrs. Rudolph and Miss Kate Bradford. These ladies were all in good voice, and added much to the interest of the occasion. The flute solo of Mr. Farmer was one of the events of the occasion.

PERSONAL.—Mr. C. Patmere, the general traveling agent of the Jeffersonville railroad, who is on a trip to Arkansas, and the South generally, is in town and may be found at the Overton.

A young gentleman named Hem Carter, P. T. Hughes, jr., was, night before last, admitted as a member in good standing to "John Brown Lodge" of the Union League. He is the youngest member.

F. D. Slaughter, who has been sick for some days, we were glad to meet yesterday at his post.

REOPENING OF THE COMMERCIAL HOTEL.—Mr. Allen, late of the Allen House, has succeeded in leasing the Commercial Hotel, and intends to open it out in first-class style. It is expected to have it ready for the reception of the patrons of the house by the 15th of February. Mr. Alleq is well known in the city as one who knows how to keep hotel, and we have no doubt but what he will receive a large share of the public patronage.

STOCK STOLEN.—A sorrel mare was stolen from Mrs. Ellen Clarkson, from the corner of Washington and Second alley, on Thursday morning. It was valued at $60. On the same date a black horse was stolen from A. Castleberg, 178 Poplar street. Valued at $150. Next, seven mules were taken from the Trias shed, belonging to T. C. Dent, and valued at $675. The latter, however, were recovered.

NINTH WARD.—The Democrats of the Ninth ward will assemble, in accordance with the call to be found elsewhere. All are invited, who are in favor of sound Democratic principles, and who are willing to work for the supremacy of the white race." Let no man who has in his veins the blood of the white race fail to be on hand. It is all important that the white men of Tennessee should march forward to the music of Democracy. If they do, all is safe.

BURGLARY ON HERNANDO STREET.—Two burglars on Thursday night entered the dwelling house of Mrs. Clark, No. 254 Hernando street. They had succeeded in carrying several things out of the house, when Mrs. Clark heard them, and went down into the front lot to investigate the matter. One of the villains fired a pistol at her, without effect, and then both of the rascals fled, leaving their plunder behind them. The police should keep a sharp lookout for these birds of prey.

ATTEMPT AT ASSASSINATION.—We heard yesterday that Mr. Wm. Porter, a well known gentleman 'round town, had a narrrow escape from death by shooting. As the story was told to us it appears that Mr. Porter was roused from his slumber some time on Thursday night, and called to the front door of his house, and as soon as that was opened a shot was fired at him, which took effect in his left arm, which at the time was at his side, allowing that the bullet missed its mark but little, for had it went an inch farther to the right it would have entered his body, and must have struck some vital part. The dastardly assassin should be ferreted out.

ROBBERS ON POPLAR STREET.—Thursday morning two hard-looking individuals entered a residence on Poplar street, No. 212, and with threatening language demanded breakfast of the lady of the house, swearing that they would have anything they wanted. She, being alone, complied with their request, when the uninvited guests departed. That night the same men entered the negro quarters on the same premises, evidently for the purpose of robbery, but the loud screams of a negro woman whom they assaulted forced the ruffians to decamp, before the men on the premises could get their arms ready. It would be well for those living in the vicinity to be prepared for these marauders, and give them a warm welcome when they again pay such visits.

AGRICULTURE.—The well conducting of agricultural operations is now the best and firmest measure for the improvement of the condition of the South. If its agriculture lives, it prospers. In this connection the possession of good seeds is a primary consideration, for nothing can be accomplished without them. Bad seeds make a bad crop, no matter how careful may be the husbandman, and it is all important that farmers should know where to get them. R. G. Craig & Co., 278 Main street, have now on hand and always keep the best stock of all kinds of seeds known to the agriculture of the world, and anything procured from them may be relied on. There also may be found will the known fertilizers, and garden implements in abundance. Our farmers will not forget their number.

Ninth Ward Meeting.

The Conservative Democratic party will meet at Ford's new house, opposite the Presbyterian church, Fifth street, Chelsea, on Monday evening, February 3d, at seven o'clock, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the County Convention on the 14th of February. A large attendance is invited.

JOHN F. SPEARS,
Chairman Ward Committee.

Candidates for County Trustee.

MEMPHIS, January 31, 1868.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: My attention was called to a notice in the AVALANCHE, a short time since, from my friend A. Woodward, where he makes mention of the fact that his name had never been mentioned by either the conventions or voters, and, in fact, not even by "Visitor." I take this occasion to say to my friend Woodward that he is a very clever fellow, and is deserving of any position that may be conferred upon him, and it somewhat astonished I am for him with all my heart. But again there are others for the same office that are equally as clever; for instance, Geo. Holmes, Goodlett, Fay and the present incumbent, and I am told that Geo. Hubbard, Esq., thinks of running for the same office. There is no clever man and none more competent than Mr. Hubbard, which is the case of them all. But let it be distinctly understood that I am for the strongest man, let him be whom he may.

VISITOR.
of the Seventh Ward.

THE OLD ARM CHAIR.

A Flow of Sentiment which We Could Not Express.

We went into the Criminal Court room yesterday, as we have done daily since the departure of the elongated Nondescript. Daily, hourly and minutely have we missed his presence (so has the "Court Room," for he owes a bill there), and on our every visit we have felt, while in the presence of his sacred, solitary arm chair, that sooner than have him go away again, to seek perilous adventure in the darkness and watchful halls of legislation, we should wish that "Chaos had come again." Take pity on our misery, and come back to us, thou brilliant effervescence of genius! thou great transcendizer of law! thou superlative adjective, unqualified in thine own right, yet still qualifying all that is grand and glorious, and edifying, in Courts, Moot or otherwise, since the simple Alfred, swept from his goat's beard hat along the resounding chord of time those thoughts and ideas which have made the Celt and the Saxon glorious brave and free, and which, though acting now on the principle of centurion, have made to-day "your arm chair"—great and glorious Nondescript as you are—the subject of our song. The loneliness of the Hindoo widow, just stepping to the funeral pyre, as the readiest means of again meeting her husband's glowing embrace, is the only simile which can properly express, through the cold medium of paper, our sensations of desolation at your absence from the loved scenes which have made you so contemptible, but, were you here, spontaneously, as leaves the lurid flash the blackened brow of the cloud, would spring from our an yet untrammeled soul, in the words of Moore (slightly altered), the following glowing, love-lit welcome:

Come rest in our bosom, my own injured dear,
The Arab loved not from the desert more;
Here, too, in love paper that by none can be torn,
And a Court and a Judge, if they come to the scene,
Oh! what was true music for, if not for the strain
Through Dedd and Gossage, through glory and shame.

We know not, we ask not, if enmity's in that heart;
We know that we love her, whatever she art;
That had she all "contempt," in measure of bliss,
But thy angel we'd be 'mid the horrors of hers—
Through thy spleen, thy sulks, thy raving, thy spite,
And smiled then and save these—or punish one too!

But in your absence, incarnation of the majesty of the law, and sweet examplar, in your own person of the ebastity of a Pompadour, we had son of comfort, consolation, and the influence of dove eyed hope within the sacred confines of your arm-chair, which inspired us, soon as we pressed the sacred springs which have the glorious honor to bear your gorgeous person, most sacred, four-eyed Nondescript, and we launched forth at your own sacred desk, upon your own sacred paper, with your own sacred pen, and used your own sacred ink in giving to the world the following "opinion" of your own sacred arm-chair, and the associations therewith connected:

Or, love is, we learn, a god who shall dare
To chide us for loving that old arm chair?
We'll dote on it fondly, despite all its arms—
We'll bedew it in tears; you're embolmed in its!
Its bound with your presence, which binds all our hearts,
Not a nail in it sleeps, not a spring will start,
Would you know the spell, it is that old arm-chair!
A song for Nondescript, in a chair that old arm-chair.

In hours "contemptuous" we linger near
The cussed thing, with listening ear,
To the judgments which the Master will give,
When he sends us to jail, with Winters to live,
Or, more merciful, sends us never back
With trials for our cases and cud for our guide,
Than to sit in front of that old arm chair!

We sat and watched it many a day,
While flowers o'er grew dim and his locks were gray;
And the Judge sometimes he smiled,
And turned to his docket to "contempt" its child.
And we heard the "contempt" of the law,
Our foot we'd shattered—our Honor had—
We sat and we heard with the heart can bear,
When we saw him leave his old arm-chair!

I'm past, 'tis past, but we gaze on it now,
With quickened pulse and throbbing brow;
There he nodded, 'twas there he lied,
And memory and dreams as well,
To sanctify that old arm-chair,
Where we heard proceedings thus far our feelings overcame us, and fearing that the arm chair would caper at us for "contempt," we rushed frantically to the printer, and placed our effusion in his hand.

IMPORTANT TO ALL.—For several months past financial gloom and general depression seem to have hung as a dark pall over every branch of trade in Memphis. Even old experienced business men qualled in despair before the storm, and some of the most substantial houses have finally sunk beneath the waves, perhaps to rise no more. The times, it is true, have been sadly out of joint, from the beginning of last summer to the present, and it has not been for the energy, hard work, and real financial and business worth of many of our most enterprising commercial men, the condition of affairs, to-day, would have been infinitely worse than it is. Prominent amongst those, to whom all credit is due for almost superhuman efforts in saving to us the portion of trade left to Memphis, stands the substantial, but new and popular, firm of Forster, Kalbofer & Co., grocers, 200 Main street. These gentlemen commenced business at the present stand, about the beginning of the dull season last summer, but owing to their great popularity individually, business tact, upright, fair and honest dealing, energy and perseverance, they soon succeeded in building up a large, profitable and prosperous trade, which has been steadily on the increase from its inception to the present time, notwithstanding the hard times. They have a heavily weighted stock in nearly all branches of industry. For financial integrity and confidence no house in Memphis stands higher. Mr. Forster, the senior partner, is well and most favorably known in all financial circles as having been long and intimately connected with the house of A. J. White & Co., Front street, where he gained a most enviable reputation for promptness and thorough business character. Charles W. Kealhofer is likewise well and favorably known to business men and old citizens. Under the correct tuition of Colonels Hill & Co., he took those title lessons in sterling worth that have so characterized him in all commercial enterprises since. Reared in such a correct business school, his after success is only a natural consequence. Thomas Day, the jolly, popular and widely known commander of the Mollie Hambleton, has proven to his numerous friends that he can run a large store with as much ease through hard times as he did a first class steamboat in low water. His name is a tower of strength to any establishment, throughout the West, South country, and Memphis proper, never fear losing even a tithe of that trade so long as he is at the helm of one of her first class mercantile establishments. Call on them, and if anything in the grocery line give this house a call, and we can vouch that entire satisfaction will be rendered in all cases.

THE DASKIEL TRAGEDY.

A Card from a Friend of the Deceased.

Although we did not give currency to the statements of the following card, we cannot refrain from giving the denial the benefit of a publication in our columns. No matter what the circumstances may have been which led to the deplorable result, the mantle of charity should be gathered around the old man, who is now bending over the brink of his grave. We do not mean from this that it should be inferred that we would for a single moment cast a reflection upon the reputation of his son, the unfortunate victim of his temporary madness and frenzy. Here is the card, and its publication does honor to the heads and hearts of the editors of the Ledger:

THE RECORD VS. MCCRAW.—Editors Ledger: Will you please correct a statement in your paper of Wednesday evening, in regard to the tragic end of the late Edwin H. Daskiel, jr.? The deceased was not a young man of dissolute habits. He resided with his parents, and was in somewhat delicate health; a young man of the most amiable disposition, and a source of comfort to the now deeply afflicted relatives. There had been no "violent altercation" between him and his unhappy father. The many friends of the family cannot but regret exceedingly that this additional pang should have been inflicted through the inadvertence of your reporter. Very faithfully,

R. A. S.

Memphis, January 30, 1868.

PLANTER'S INSURANCE COMPANY.—This solid corporation, at the head of which is that gallant soldier, Bedford Forrest, is still in the full tide of success. Notwithstanding the opposition it has received, and the difficulties it has had to contend with during the past year, no company in Memphis stands higher to-day. It has put itself entirely loose from the Board of Underwriters, and stands to-day upon its own merits, able and willing to pay the last dollar of its indebtedness, and the risks which it may incur. Since February last it has issued 2400 policies, all of which are as good as gold to those insured. During this period, after everything is settled, its business will have in the vaults of the company $28,000, an exact gain of twenty-eight per cent. upon its capital. It is now extending its ramifications into Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, and all the Southern States, and we predict that it will not be long until it will be recognized as the company foremost in the confidence of the people of the South. Connected with it are some of the finest gentlemen in the South. On the 20th an election for officers was held, and Isham G. Harris, the noble, pure and able Governor of Tennessee during the war, was placed in the Vice-Presidency. His name alone is a tower of strength. Then there is Walter A. Goodman, the Secretary, a man who has served, tried, and found good metal. Next Fred. P. Wolcott, who followed that bold rider, John Morgan, all through the war, and made himself such a name as any man might well feel proud of. In fact, Fred. Wolcott was such a good Southern man that even unto this day his relations are estranged from him on that account. Our friends will not forget the "Planters" when about taking policies on their property.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: A card appears in your issue of Thursday last, signed "Junius," in which the writer takes exception to the action of the County Executive Committee in allowing ten delegates from the Seventh ward, to meet in convention on the 14th of February next. The writer seems to think that an error has been made by the committee, and that this ward is allowed six more delegates than its ratio. Did "Junius" take the trouble to examine how many votes the Seventh ward cast at the late election for Mayor? If he did not, we can inform him—"nine hundred and seventy-three." Then now is the error? "Junius" replies, and remarks that "this is the strongholds of Radicalism." What if it be? Who knows how it will vote at the county election? True there are a good many colored folks residing in this ward; but is it not a well known fact that the colored population are tired of the Radical party and their false promises? The negroes are determined that if they cannot vote with the party which have been their friends in days that are past, they will abstain from voting entirely. The registration which is now going on will demonstrate this fact. A careful examination of the allotment of delegates from the various wards, made by the County Executive Committee, will prove that their estimates are correct. But we would ask "Junius"—what object he had in view in thus attacking the County Executive Committee's action in the premises? Was it a covert attack upon the committee or its President? If so, what object is to be attained? We would rather think it was an honest mistake of "Junius," caused by his anxiety to have a fair and honorable canvass. We are satisfied that the gentleman will not accuse the committee of packing the Convention. Will the gentleman favor us with his explanation?

The coming election will be one of much interest and importance to the Conservative party, and we trust all will work together for the common weal and benefit of the white man's party.

Memphis Judges and Contempt.

The Judges in Memphis must regard themselves as a very superior sort of people, not to be locked after or talked about except in the most respectful manner. Judge Hunter, of the Criminal Court, has issued very tasty attachments against the editors of the Memphis AVALANCHE for contempt, that they say in their issue of the 18th inst. they had been arrested twice within the previous three days for contempt, which makes some eight or nine times they have been arrested since this farce commenced.

Judge Leonard, of the County Court of Shelby county, seems to have caught the infection; for on the 17th instant, he ordered an attachment to be issued against John Somerville and Mr. J. J. Dubois, for contempt of Court.

These Memphis Judges will bring the Courts into contempt, if their ridiculous course be not curbed. In the days before the war had thrown to the surface the characters that now hold high carnival in the places of power, we had none of this upstart dignity.—Nashville Union and Dispatch.

Old Fayette Moving.

SOMERVILLE, TENN., January 30, 1868.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: Would it be asking too great a favor of you to insert in your paper, in a conspicuous place, as it has a large circulation in our county, that there will be a mass convention of the citizens of Fayette county in Somerville, on Friday, February 7th, to organize the Conservative party and nominate candidates to fill the various county offices at the ensuing March election.

We are determined to beat the "root pullers" in March. We feel encouraged from our corporate election. The Conservatives had a glorious contest, and we disfranchised will endeavor to use our influence with the voters to vote right, if we can exercise that right in the Presidential contest.

RIVER NEWS.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, February 1.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather moderate. The river is rising slowly, but will probably come to a stand to-day, with a good depth of water. The Ohio is falling from Pittsburg down, with seven feet in the canal and nine feet six inches in the channel in the lower Ohio. The river between Cairo and St. Louis is closed with ice. White river is stationary, with eight feet in the channel to Augusta. The Arkansas is falling slowly, with scant four feet in the channel.

ARRIVALS.

Steamer Liberty No. 2, White river.
" Olive Branch, New Orleans.
" Ken Claire, Hatchie river.
" Bosz (tow boat), New Orleans.
" Wild Duck, Cincinnati.
" Empire, Cairo.

DEPARTURES.

Steamer Natoma, St. Francis river.
" Sam. J. Hale, Cincinnati.
" Argonaut, Louisville.
" Olive Branch, Cairo.
" Bosz (tow boat), Pittsburg.
" Ean Claire, Hatchie river.
" Wild Duck, New Orleans.

IN PORT.

Liberty No. 2, Centralia, Ozark, Celeste and Empire.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the wharf was active, with a good list of boats in port, receiving and discharging.

The Sam J. Hale cleared for Cincinnati with 1625 bales cotton.

The Argonaut backed out for Louisville, with 1000 bales.

The Olive Branch arrived from New Orleans last evening en route to Cairo, with 950 tons; freight principally sugar and Molasses. She discharged here fifty-five hogsheads sugar, and some miscellaneous freight, and she has for St. Louis 500 tons groceries, including 534 hogsheads sugar, and 214 hogsheads for Chicago. She got off last night at eight p.m.

NEW FREIGHT.—The Liberty freight in from White river is 300 barrels mess beef, for Chicago; forty tons hides, and ten tons shin bones, which are destined for Chicago, where the marrow of the bones will be manufactured into hair oil, and the bones ground up for various purposes. She also had 543 bales cotton.

Captain John Brooks arrived in the city last evening from New Orleans. The towboat Boaz, passed up yesterday with a tow of empty barges, and the Wild Duck, from the Ohio river, passed down with a tow of barges, loaded with Western products.

Ben Centralia, while backing out from the wharf last night blew out one of the sheets of her larboard boiler. The accident was caused by some defect in her doctor, which at the time failed to supply water. In consequence she was delayed, but will probably get off to-day.

Jimmy Thompson and Bob Shields, two well known and popular clerks, go out in the office of the Ozark, recently arriving for the Arkansas, and leaves to-day at five p.m.

Thomas Haliburton, a knight of the quill and a clever gentleman, arrived yesterday morning from Arkansas.

The fine steamer Liberty came into port yesterday morning in grand style, with 562 bales of cotton, and crowded with passengers. She is the regular Saturday White river mail packet, and leaves at sharp five for White river and way points through to Jacksonport, connecting at Duvall's Bluff with the train for Little Rock. The popular Captain George Cable commands, with Milt Harry and Charley Sharpe, two amiable and attentive gentlemen, in charge of the office.

Captain Nat. Green has removed his office to the new building next the Commercial block, where he will be pleased to see his friends.

The Natoma cleared for St. Francis river, with a fair trip.

The Centralia is up for Arkansas river to-day at five p.m.

The fine steamer Pauline Carroll, Captain White, will leave the wharf to-day at five p.m. for New Orleans and the lands.

The Liberty No. 2 left for Louisville this evening for New Orleans.

The Henry Ames left New Orleans on Commerce, for Memphis, and the J. D. Perry left for White river on the same day.

Passengers bound for Arkansas will make time by taking passage on the Liberty No. 2. She goes through on time.

The famous mammoth low pressure steamer Richmond, in command of Captain Stutt Neal, leaves to-day at five p.m., for Cairo and Louisville. She will leave punctually, and those wishing a safe, comfortable and speedy journey up the Ohio river, will not fail to take passage on her. She also wants 1,000 bales of cotton. Mr. Wolfolk, a genial and clever gentleman, is her purser, with Mr. Lodge in charge of the freight department.

By private dispatches we learn that the Indiana has been relieved from her perilous position in Terrapin Neck. The Indiana was on her way to New Orleans, heavily freighted with produce from the Ohio. She was on a log at the head of Island No. 101, some forty miles above Vicksburg, at the chute, and just above the new cut off at Terrapin Neck, and hung on the log about midships, breaking her fore and aft hog chains, and the boat would doubtless have been lost but for the timely promptness of relieving her by throwing her cargo overboard. Only a portion of her deck load was thrown overboard, and lighters were soon on her relief, and she left for the disptach states, she was expected at Vicksburg on Thursday. The Indiana is a stout, well built boat, and a great favorite in the New Orleans trade, and we hope to hear of her ultimate safety. The loss of the cargo thrown overboard will no doubt go on a general average of the whole. She had a large amount of corn, and 400 hogsheads of tobacco, the latter taken at Henderson. She received here, for New Orleans, 143 bales of cotton, which was probably saved in a damaged condition.

The G. D. Palmer, which was sunk a few days ago in the Arkansas river, will prove a total loss, as she lies in nine feet water, and is badly twisted and broken up.

The Empire is due from Cairo, and posted for a return trip to Louisville to-day at five p.m.

Captain William H. Hazlett left this city on Saturday last for Pittsburg, where he designed purchasing three steamers for the St. Louis and Vicksburg trade. The line will consist of four boats, with the popular Rubicon at the head and front.

The Empire arrived from Cairo last night with a cargo of produce. She is receiving for a return trip, and will leave for Cairo and Louisville to-day at five p.m. Captain King commands, with Harry Walker in charge of the office.

The Natoma, which we spoke yesterday that the Worsham House was crowded with guests from Arkansas, Mississippi and points East and West. The Worsham is centrally located and is kept in fine order. The apartments and comforts of the house are complete, and the office is presided over by a trio of courteous and attentive clerks.

Mr. W. B. Gwathmey, collector of the Memphis and St. Louis Packet Company, returned to the city yesterday from St. Louis, where he has been spending a few week with his friends.

The splendid steamer May Flower, Captain Josh. Throop, will be found at the wharf this morning to receive for Cairo and Evansville, and leaves to-day at five p.m. The Flower is unsurpassed in fare, speed and comfort. Messrs. Billy Dunn, Dake Nicholson and George Throop, a trio of amiable and clever gentlemen, have charge of the office.

The Evansville packet Phantom broke her shaft above Paducah and is laid up at that port for repairs.

The St. Louis Democrat, of Thursday, in speaking of the ice at that port says: In the center of the harbor the ice is heaped up in layers, and supposed to be five or six feet in thickness. Last night's cold no doubt hardened and thickened the mass. This may prove one of the heaviest gorges ever in the harbor of St. Louis, and lively fears are awakened as to the results that will ensue upon the breaking up of the ice to the large amount of property within its influence. On January 26th, Captain James O'Neil sold his interest of one-fourth in the steamer Marcella to Capt. R. Powell, for $250. It is reported that the line of packets running between St. Joseph and Omaha will not be resumed this year, and that Captain Rufus Ford, Superintendent of the line, will move to St. Louis, having made arrangements to resume the position in the Keokuk line, which he held previously. Additionally it is said that two of the aforesaid St. Joseph and Omaha packets will be sold, and the third will ply between St. Joseph and Lexington, connecting with the St. Louis and Miami packets.

The Louisville Courier, of Thursday, says:

The river was falling fast yesterday, with seven feet water in the canal in the evening, by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had fallen five inches at the head of the falls, and fifteen inches at Portland. This is a rapid decline, and the Indiana cold weather now prevailing will cause a still more rapid decline. Yesterday morning was the coldest of the year, the thermometer at sunrise indicating only seven degrees above zero. The weather was clear, but it was freezing cold all day, the thermometer at noon rising to twenty-one and falling at dusk to fourteen degrees above zero, with every indication of a very low temperature last night. On the falls last evening there were five feet water in the pass down the Indian chute, and the river falling fast. There were no ice in the river yesterday, but we fear there will be an abundance of it to-day, as shore ice was rapidly making at the wharf last night.

MURDER IN EFFINGHAM COUNTY.

Four Negroes Strip a White Man, Tie Him up and Give Him Seventy-five Lashes.

From the Savannah Republican, 26th instant:

We are indebted to a friend conversant with the facts for particulars of a deed startling and unprecedented as it is true. On Wednesday a bloody murder was discovered to have been committed in effingham county, the facts of which are not positively known, but enough is conjectured, and circumstantially proved, to show that it was one of the most brutal and fearful deeds on record.

As the tale is told, on the 24th of last month a white man, entirely unknown and supposed to be a foreigner, went to the cabin of a negro, near the Augusta road, seventeen miles from the city, drew out the staple which held the padlock, and entered the place and stole a half peck of ground peas. He was caught by the owner of the cabin, who, in company with three others, stripped the man, then tied him to a tree, and with a whip gave him seventy-five lashes upon his bare back, and then turned the suffering victim loose.

But not yet had he escaped from their hellish vengeance. The spirit which could inflict a punishment so severe for so light an offense was not yet satisfied. The life of the man alone could gratify the barbarians, and compensate for the attempt to steal a few ground peas from the negro.

Nothing was said about the matter until Wednesday last, when some negroes, who were prowling about a swamp, suddenly had revealed to their gaze a sickening and fearful sight. There in the swamp, up to that time hidden from moral sight, lay the body of a white man, or rather the remains of the body. For, terrible as had been the fate of the poor unfortunate, the condition of the body was still more awful. Birds of ill omen, the buzzard and the carrion crow, had discovered it, and satisfied their filthy appetites upon the more mundered remains of humanity. The flesh upon the head and part of the body was eaten away. The negroes gathered up what was left of the body, and carried it out of the swamp, and gave notice of their discovery, whereupon a coroner's jury was called to investigate the matter. There were two bullet wounds in the head—one in the back part, the other in the side. When the negroes lifted the body up, the bullet in the back part of the head dropped out.

The body was found about a mile from where the whipping occurred. There was just enough of the flesh of the back still attached to the extremities of the body for the marks to be seen that led to the belief that the remains were those of the man who had been whipped. There on the flesh were plainly and distinctly visible the marks of the lash; the welts raised by the fierce blows struck by stalwart negroes. It is generally believed that it is the same person, and the natural conclusion is that after tormenting their victim, these barbarous savages terminated his existence.

MISSISSIPPI ITEMS.

A gentleman named Joel East was killed last week near Meridian, by the accidental fall of a horse across his back as he was bending forward.

The fine store house of Mr. Welborn was destroyed at Clinton, Mississippi, a night or two since, said to be the work of an incendiary. The property was insured for twelve thousand dollars.

A number of delegates returning from the Grand Masonic bodies, lately in session at Natchez, passed a series of complimentary resolutions to the officers of the steamer General Quitman, for a voluntary reduction of fare.

Influenced by "paramount duties of a personal and political character," Colonel E. M. Yerger has withdrawn from the editorial management of the Vicksburg Herald in an address to its readers.

Paragraph 2, of General Orders No. 2, dated January 25th, from the Headquarters of General Gillem, reads as follows: The provisions of General Orders No. 23, series of 1867 from these Headquarters, are so extended as to apply to all vagrants without regard to class or color.

The Aberdeen Examiner has a capital notice of J. B. Woodmansee, one of Ord's registrars in Monroe county, who was permitted to foist himself into the negro convention. It characterizes him as "a plunder-seeking adventurer from Indiana, who was loathed and despised by every white man who was not of his plunder-seeking clan."

Our friend McCardle, of the Vicksburg Times, says: "The dogs who yelped so fiercely while the editor of the Times was in Ord's military prison, and when he was under bond to keep the peace, are respectfully requested to read the order of General Gillem, revoking the order for our arrest, and cancelling our bond. If any of them desire to bite, our hands and feet are both free."

ALABAMA ITEMS.

The Mobile Tribune says Colin McRae has become disgusted with Honduras on account of the denseness of the forests, and is going to Jamaica.

The Montgomery (Alabama) Advertiser reports that the negro laborers in that city are hiring themselves for fifty dollars, and even as low as twenty-five dollars for the year. These are all able-bodied field hands. Boys who got five dollars per month last year hire themselves for food and clothing. The Advertiser hears from the country that the best field hands are hiring in some sections for forty dollars per annum, and that many decline to hire until after the election.

The Montgomery Mail, speaking of the infamous frauds in registration and in the election of the late "Menagerie," says: "No convention has ever been called in Alabama. No Constitution has ever been framed. No election to ratify the Constitution is to come off on the 4th and 5th proximo. The whole proceeding thus far has been a gross fraud, an infamous lie! We defy Congress to investigate it."

The Story of an Unfortunate.

Who ever read of a more unfortunate and accommodating man than the following?

A CARD.

To the Editor of the Louisville Courier:

Whereas, a report to the effect of my having two wives—one in Alabama, the other in this State—has been circulated throughout the State of Kentucky, which report has a tendency to injure me and the cause in which I am engaged, I therefore pray you grant me a short space in one of the columns of your valuable paper, containing the facts with reference to said report, in order that I may be justified at the hands of the people of the State.

I married Miss Elizabeth Elenor Cunningham, eldest daughter of John M. Cunningham, of Monroe county, Arkansas, in March, 1857, with whom I lived up to 1859. I returned to her in the fall of 1865, after a four years' campaign in the Confederate army, and desired to resume my duties as husband and father of one child. She positively refused to re-unite. I came to this State and was united to Miss Lucy M. Miller, of Marion county, who abandoned me shortly after the union in consequence of the existing first wife. I am now and have ever been perfectly willing to live with either. What more can I say or propose to do?

C. HAGAN, M. D., and not Tolbert.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

George Law has entirely disappeared from public life, and so has every other kind of law, observes the Nashville Banner.

Richard S. Brown, (negro) of Boston, was appointed Justice of the Peace for the county of Suffolk, by Governor Bullock.

The notorious "Chevalier" Wyckoff first visited the United States as the agent of the famous danseuse Fannie Essler, nearly thirty years ago.

Judge James H. Birch, "defeated, but not conquered," is a candidate for Congress for next term, and is resolved to "contest" to the end of his life.

Dickens, it is reported, has sent $1,000 to Mrs. Clemm, mother-in-law of Edgar A. Poe, who is an inmate of a charitable institution, at Baltimore, and for years has been in extremely indigent circumstances.

B. Ten Broeck, the distinguished turfman, has recently purchased a farm of about five hundred acres, eight miles from Louisville, on which he will reside. He will devote a portion of his ample means to the raising of blooded stock.

James Stephens, the ex-C. O. I. R. of the Fenian Brotherhood, is not permitted, it would seem, to live in peace in his exile in Paris. A late bit of gossip from that city represents him as being dogged night and day by two English detectives.

MULES AND CATTLE FOR SALE.

Immense Sacrifice of Property near Grenada, Mississippi.

I WILL SELL my valuable tract of Land lying in the valley of Yallobusha river, two and a half miles from Grenada, containing 1361 acres of land for Two dollars per acres; five hundred acres are cleared; good farm improvements; a desirable place, and in better days valued at from twelve to fifteen dollars per acre. Its nearness to Grenada and the railroad makes it a commanding place. The farm is stocked, fully supplied and managed, is worth three times the money.

With the place I will sell about forty mules at $100 per head, making $3500, the cost of which was to me over $5000. I will also include my stock of cattle at ten dollars per head, which includes three yoke of oxe; and fifteen or twenty cows. The cattle may be worth forty or forty head, more or less. I will throw in all the farming tools of the place to the purchaser at one cash wagon, and several ox and pony chai may be found on the premises.

Here is a bargain. Come with YOUR MONEY, as I SELL FOR CASH, and to leave the country which has been my home for thirty years.

THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE

NO material which has ever been discovered has effected greater benefits in the household economy than

McGILMSEY'S MAGIC SOAP.

It is a labor saving invention as well as an invaluable remedy in misery, amid head, scruples of the skin and scalp. Dandruff is removed from the head, the skin whitened and cleansed, pimle and jewelry cleansed effectually from grease, furniture, of wheu, paint, varnish or marble with the greatest facility and without injury to the material. It is a great saving of time and labor in washing clothes. It is the only known soap which will wash flannels with the same of cotton or linen without fulling or shrinking. All these important objects can be effected without injury to the skin, as the most delicate lady or gentleman no delete rious qualities whatever. The world is challenged to produce a soap which possesses so many valuable properties, and which is so innocuous and safe. It is a home invention, and defies competition in any part of the world. It has become a necessity in Memphis, and its use is rapidly spreading throughout the south, and eventually will be used for the Yankee States, North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica. Manufactured solely by C. P. McGILMSEY, Memphis,
